1. Purpose

The purpose of this Recruitment Policy is to establish a standardized recruitment framework that enables Aegis Bank to attract, assess, and hire highly qualified professionals while ensuring fairness, transparency, regulatory compliance, and operational excellence.

This policy ensures that recruitment decisions are based on merit, organizational requirements, and ethical hiring practices.

The objectives are to:

- Attract top talent.
- Promote equal employment opportunities.
- Standardize recruitment processes.
- Reduce hiring risks.
- Ensure compliance with employment regulations.
- Strengthen workforce quality.

- Support long-term organizational growth.

---

2. Scope

This policy applies to all recruitment activities conducted by Aegis Bank, including:

- Permanent Employees
- Contract Employees
- Temporary Employees
- Graduate Trainees
- Interns
- Executive Leadership
- Remote Employees
- International Recruitment (where applicable)

Third-party recruitment agencies must also comply with this policy.

---

3. Recruitment Principles

All recruitment activities shall follow these principles:

- Fairness
- Transparency
- Merit-Based Selection
- Equal Opportunity
- Diversity & Inclusion
- Regulatory Compliance
- Confidentiality
- Professionalism
- Integrity
- Data Privacy

Recruitment decisions shall never be influenced by favoritism, personal relationships, or conflicts of interest.

4. Workforce Planning

Department Heads are responsible for identifying workforce requirements based on:

- Business expansion
- Employee turnover
- New projects
- Regulatory requirements
- Technology initiatives
- Business continuity planning

Each hiring request must be supported by a documented business justification.

---

5. Job Requisition Process

Before recruitment begins, the Hiring Manager must submit a Job Requisition Form (JRF) containing:

- Position Title
- Department
- Reporting Manager
- Employment Type
- Salary Range
- Business Justification
- Required Skills
- Expected Joining Date
- Budget Approval

The requisition must receive approval from:

- Department Head

- Human Resources
- Finance (if required)
- Executive Management (for senior positions)

No vacancy may be advertised without approved authorization.

---

6. Job Descriptions

Every position must have an approved Job Description (JD) outlining:

- Position Summary
- Key Responsibilities
- Required Qualifications
- Technical Skills
- Soft Skills
- Experience Requirements
- Reporting Structure
- Performance Expectations
- Compliance Responsibilities

Job Descriptions must be reviewed periodically to ensure alignment with evolving business needs.

---

7. Candidate Sourcing

Candidates may be sourced through:

- Company Careers Portal
- Professional Networking Platforms
- University Partnerships
- Employee Referral Program
- Recruitment Agencies

- Career Fairs
- Internal Job Postings
- Executive Search Firms

All recruitment channels must comply with applicable employment and privacy regulations.

---

8. Equal Employment Opportunity

Aegis Bank is committed to providing equal employment opportunities based solely on:

- Qualifications
- Skills
- Experience
- Competency
- Job Performance Potential

The Bank does not tolerate discrimination based on legally protected characteristics.

Recruitment decisions shall be objective, evidence-based, and aligned with business requirements.

---

9. Candidate Screening

Purpose

Candidate screening ensures that only qualified applicants proceed through the recruitment process while maintaining fairness, consistency, and compliance.

The Human Resources Department shall review each application against the approved job description and selection criteria.

Initial Screening Criteria

Applications may be evaluated based on:

- Educational qualifications

- Relevant work experience
- Professional certifications
- Technical competencies
- Communication skills
- Legal eligibility to work
- Employment history
- Role-specific requirements

Candidates who do not meet the minimum requirements may not proceed to the next stage.

Resume Verification

Recruiters should verify:

- Employment timeline
- Career progression
- Qualifications
- Relevant achievements
- Unexplained employment gaps
- Consistency of information provided

10. Interview Process

Aegis Bank follows a structured interview process to ensure objective hiring decisions.

Typical recruitment stages include:

1. HR Screening Interview
2. Technical Assessment (if applicable)
3. Hiring Manager Interview
4. Department Head Interview
5. Executive Interview (for senior positions)

6. Final Hiring Decision

Interview stages may vary depending on the position.

Interview Panel Responsibilities

Interviewers must:

- Review candidate profiles beforehand.
- Ask role-related questions.
- Evaluate candidates objectively.
- Document interview observations.
- Maintain confidentiality.
- Avoid discriminatory or inappropriate questions.

All interview evaluations should be recorded using the approved Interview Evaluation Form.

Interview Evaluation Areas

Candidates may be assessed on:

- Technical knowledge
- Problem-solving ability
- Communication skills
- Leadership potential
- Customer service orientation
- Regulatory awareness
- Team collaboration
- Cultural alignment
- Ethical decision-making

11. Technical Assessments

Certain roles may require technical evaluations before selection.

Examples include:

- Software development assessments
- Cybersecurity practical exercises
- Financial analysis case studies
- SQL or database assessments
- Cloud infrastructure tasks
- AI or machine learning evaluations
- Banking operations simulations

Assessment criteria should be relevant to the responsibilities of the position.

12. Background Verification

Before employment is confirmed, Aegis Bank may conduct background verification, including:

- Identity verification
- Educational qualification verification
- Employment history verification
- Professional certification validation
- Criminal record checks (where legally permitted)
- Credit or financial integrity checks (where appropriate for banking roles)
- Right-to-work verification

Employment offers may be withdrawn if significant discrepancies or fraudulent information are identified.

---

13. Reference Checks

Human Resources may obtain professional references from previous employers or authorized referees.

Reference checks may include:

- Employment dates
- Job responsibilities
- Professional conduct
- Performance
- Attendance
- Eligibility for rehire

All reference information shall be treated as confidential.

---

14. Job Offer Process

Following successful completion of the recruitment process, Human Resources prepares the formal employment offer.

The offer may include:

- Position title
- Department
- Reporting manager
- Compensation
- Employment type
- Probation period
- Start date
- Working hours
- Benefits
- Conditions of employment

Employment becomes effective only after the candidate formally accepts the offer and completes all pre-employment requirements.

---

15. Pre-Employment Requirements

Before joining Aegis Bank, candidates may be required to submit:

- Government-issued identification
- Academic certificates
- Professional certifications
- Previous employment references
- Bank account details (for payroll)
- Signed employment contract
- Confidentiality Agreement
- Code of Conduct acknowledgment
- Information Security acknowledgment

Additional documentation may be requested based on local legal or regulatory requirements.

16. Onboarding Process

The onboarding process helps new employees integrate into Aegis Bank efficiently.

Typical onboarding activities include:

- HR orientation
- IT account creation
- Email and identity provisioning
- Security awareness training
- Information Security briefing
- AI Usage Policy briefing
- Department introduction
- Assignment of equipment
- Manager induction meeting
- Mandatory compliance training

Managers should ensure new employees receive appropriate support during their onboarding period.

---

17. Recruitment Metrics

To improve hiring effectiveness, Human Resources may monitor:

- Time to hire
- Time to fill
- Offer acceptance rate
- New hire retention
- Cost per hire
- Candidate satisfaction
- Hiring manager satisfaction
- Diversity indicators
- Quality of hire
- Recruitment source effectiveness

These metrics support continuous improvement of recruitment practices.

---

19. Practical Examples

Example 1 – Internal Promotion

A Software Engineer applies for an internal DevOps position.

Correct Process:

The employee applies through the Internal Careers Portal, completes the interview process, and is assessed against the same competency standards as other applicants.

Example 2 – False Qualification

A candidate claims to possess a professional certification that cannot be verified.

Outcome:

The recruitment process is paused while Human Resources investigates. If the claim is found to be intentionally false, the application may be rejected.

Example 3 – Conflict of Interest

A Hiring Manager discovers that an applicant is an immediate family member.

Correct Action:

The Hiring Manager must disclose the conflict to Human Resources and remove themselves from the recruitment decision-making process.

20. Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

Q1. Can employees apply for internal vacancies?

Yes. Eligible employees may apply through the Internal Careers Portal, subject to policy requirements and business needs.

Q2. Are all applicants interviewed?

No. Only candidates who meet the required qualifications and successfully pass the screening process are invited for interviews.

Q3. Is background verification mandatory?

Yes. Background verification is generally required before employment is confirmed, subject to legal requirements and the nature of the role.

Q4. Can an offer be withdrawn?

Yes. An offer may be withdrawn if a candidate provides false information, fails background checks, or does not meet pre-employment requirements.

Q5. Who approves new positions?

New positions require approval through the established recruitment authorization process, which may include Department Heads, Human Resources, Finance, and Executive Management, depending on the role.
